ADVANCED COLONIC HYDROTHERAPY WEEKEND

new material and ideas for experienced and new Colonic Hydrotherapists being able to add some of the techniques taught on this weekend you will be able to achieve quicker results with some of your clients. We all know that a client who gets results fast, feels fantastic and glows with wellbeing is a walking advert for your clinic!

Saturday 21st April and Sunday 22nd April, 2012

and Saturday 22nd Sept. and Sunday 23rd Sept., 2012

Venue: The Chapel, Enmore, Nr Bridgwater, Somerset TA5 2AN

Friday 20th April/21st Sept.: meet at clinic for dinner out at 7.00 p.m. (optional but good idea to meet everyone socially-please confirm in advance)

Saturday 21st April/22nd Sept. : 09.00 - 13.00 Theory discussions including

- Working Naturopathically.
- New enema herbs – using herbs that should be exempt from herbal legislation both as herbal implants and for client use between colonic treatments
- Answering critics of CH with science and sense.
- Client position on the treatment couch during a colonic and how the different positions can influence the results of a colonic hydrotherapy treatment.

AND as always, addressing questions from participants.

14.30 - 18.00 afternoon practical sessions using gravity and machine closed systems. Disposables. Implanting. Using new herbs.

Sunday 22nd April/23rd Sept.: 10.00 – 13.00

- IBS treatment protocols using variation of water temperatures in long and short internal applications to stimulate or suppress the sympathetic and para-sympathetic nerves
- How to assess whether the SNS or PSNS is dominating, and the impact upon digestive / bowel function.
- Non-invasive medical assessment techniques to assess a client's nervous system

14.30 - 16.30 Final practical sessions, discussion and review.

Workshop leaders: Roger Groos, B.Sc. has run popular postgraduate workshops since 1993 and has been closely involved with the evolution of ARCH over the years and as a director of the General Naturopathic Council and a CNHC profession-specific board member is involved in the regulation of our therapy.
